Valley City is a unique place, home to many hidden gems and splendid treasures. Don't take our word for it — VC has been dubbed “Most Beautiful” “Most Quaint” “Most Fit” and “Most Affordable Town” by the likes of Expedia, BuzzFeed and others. The town is home to the “Most Beautiful Campus” and it is home to over 6,500 people, who have enjoyed an idyllic life on the banks of the Sheyenne River, surrounded by rolling hills and woodlands — all rare treasures in North Dakota.

“Visitors are pleasantly surprised when they dip into the Sheyenne River Valley,” Mary Lee Nielson, Valley City tourism board representative says, “No one expects to see the beautiful forested area coming off the plains of North Dakota.”

The “City of Bridges,” boasts 11 bridges that span the winding Sheyenne River. A special tour around town showcases eight of these bridges, including the iconic High Line bridge, one of the longest and highest single-track railroad bridges in the nation. You can explore Valley City and its bridges in a variety of ways; the Park District even has bike and kayak rentals available for those looking to take a journey around town.

Valley City is also the gateway to the Sheyenne River Valley National Scenic Byway, an award-winning 63-mile stretch of highway that features picturesque small towns, outdoor recreation areas and historic sites.

Expand your journey north and south of Interstate 94 at Valley City, and enjoy the beauty of the Sheyenne River Valley National Scenic Byway, a must in your North Dakota journey.

Start Your Valley City Visit At The Rosebud Visitor Center

The Rosebud Visitor Center, located on Valley City's Main Street, brings to life the history of the Sheyenne River Valley. It gets its name from the unique historical relic inside: a fully restored 1881 Northern Pacific superintendent's railcar with original furnishings.

Indoor and outdoor displays feature photos and information that illustrate the area's history, highlighting how railroads facilitated the settlement of the Sheyenne Valley and how the early pioneers built their lives on the prairie. Also at the Rosebud, the North Dakota Agriculture Hall of Fame display celebrates the state's agricultural entrepreneurs and those who have made important contributions to the booming farming industry.

Besides offering visitor information, the Rosebud is home to the Development Corporation, Convention and Visitors Bureau, Sheyenne Valley Community Foundation, the Workforce Development Center and Sheyenne River Valley National Scenic Byway.

Sheyenne RiverFest

Sheyenne RiverFest celebrates the recreational opportunities of the Sheyenne River and surrounding area while bringing the community together to learn about and appreciate the value of the outdoors.

In 2020 Sheyenne RiverFest was named the Visitor Experience Award Winner as part of the National Scenic Byway Foundation's Inaugural Awards. Don't miss out on the fun, join us for RiverFest 2023 on August 5th during which residents and visitors alike can launch their kayaks and/or canoes at the many different sites and explore the Sheyenne River and our beautiful valley. Don't have a canoe or kayak? No worries! There are 8 rentable kayaks at the Valley City Parks and Recreation kayak rental kiosk. See www.vcparks.com for more information on rental kayaks.

Sheyenne RiverFest 2023 will be bigger and better than ever. Friday night will feature a cruise with the Bridge City Cruisers where you can enjoy a stunning drive down the Sheyenne River Valley National Scenic Byway. The kayak and canoe launch will be held the morning of August 6th north of Valley City and ending at Chautauqua Park. Not enough kayaking? Explore the rest of the Sheyenne River – which is currently being developed into a National Water Trail - north and south of Valley City!

Sheyenne RiverFest isn't simply a float on the Sheyenne River. Chautauqua Park will also feature a large scale craft and vendor show with food, music, and many booths featuring handmade products! You don't want to miss out on this first-time event!

Don't forget about Fort Ransom State Park's "Kid's Day." Learn about wildlife in the Sheyenne Valley, the importance of water safety, how to prevent the spread of aquatic nuisance species, and more. For more information about RiverFest or how to register for the event, see their Facebook page "Sheyenne RiverFest" or visit www.vcparks.com!

Sheyenne River Water Trail

Valley City is home to the three-time national award-winning Sheyenne River Valley National Scenic Byway and is part of the longest nationally designated hiking trail and the North Country National Scenic Trail, our goal - to have three nationally designated trails in our Valley.

For the third trail the partners that started the award winning RiverFest event are now working with the National Park Service to create the Sheyenne Water Trail. The core committee consists of members from the Army Corps of Engineers, Fort Ransom State Park, the Byway committee, Valley City Tourism, the Sheyenne National Grassland and the National Park Service.

With help from the Resource Development Specialist from VC/BC Development Corporation they have been awarded three separate grants totally close to half a million dollars with construction underway and tentative completion dates in the fall. National designation is the goal and to accomplish this more landings and amenities must be added to the 199-mile trail that starts at the north end of Lake Ashtabula and goes to the east end of the Sheyenne National Grassland. There must be a landing every eight hours of paddle time. The Committee is working with public and private entities to identify potential sites and securing quotes for equipment needed to build safe sites. The trail has many areas open to the public this year. Maps and registration details are available by visiting www.valleycitytourism.com.

Beauty, History and Science Medicine Wheel Park

Medicine Wheel Park sits just off Interstate 94 Exit 292 in Valley City. The unique 30-acre park was established in 1992 by Valley City State University Emeritus Professor Joe Stickler and a group of his students and still stands as a way to honor Native American Culture and history, as well as science and nature. Stickler received the Trailblazer Award for Tourism Innovation as part of the 2020 Governor's Travel and Tourism Awards, for his exemplary leadership and work at Medicine Wheel Park. The North Dakota Tourism Division says this of Joe and his project: "Joe's Medicine Wheel Park has been an invaluable addition to the City of Bridges and a unique draw to the state of North Dakota."

Snowmobile North Dakota App:

To improve the experience and offer greater safety, snowmobile enthusiasts can download an interactive trail map and mobile app, called Snowmobile North Dakota. The app tracks trips, tracks current location on a trail using GPS, provides updates on trail conditions, offers locations of nearby amenities, and allows users to save and load itineraries. Users should note that the trail map indicates whether a trail is groomed, not whether it is open.

The mobile app was developed in partnership with the North Dakota Parks & Recreation Department and Snowmobile North Dakota. The basic version is free to download on both Apple and Android products and does not require data usage. More features are available by upgrading to the pro version.

The new interactive trail map is also available online via desktop computer for riders to learn more about what the state snowmobile trails have to offer. The online version includes the same trail status features and amenity icons as the mobile app, and also has a Plan Your Trip function providing turn-by-turn directions and total mileage from point A to point B as selected by the user.

Online trail maps and current trail conditions can be found at www.snowmobilend.org/.

Let's All Go to Lake Ashtabula

"Ashtabula" is a Native American word meaning "Fish River," a fitting name for the 5,234 acre reservoir in Barnes County, ND.

Lake Ashtabula is home to a variety of fish, including Northern Pike, Wall-eye, White Bass and Yellow Perch. Its 74+ miles of shoreline provide outdoor enthusiasts with endless recreational opportunities.

Lake Ashtabula formed when the Baldhill Dam was constructed on the Sheyenne River. Today, the dam and reservoir provide flood protection, augment water supplies in dry years, foster wildlife habitat and offer year-round outdoor activities.

Stump Lake Village

The Stump Lake Village is much more than a collection of "Stuff". Combined with Stump Lake Park, there is something for all ages to do. Whitetail deer browse the grounds of both the Village and Park. 60 acres of woods provide a home for a wide range of wildlife. Teddy Roosevelt established the second wildlife refuge in the nation at Stump Lake Park because of its great variety of waterfowl. We have steam engines to hand pulled fire equipment to household items from years gone by. Each of our buildings is full of authentic and interesting items, and our inventory and displays are always changing! We have an exceptionally nice Veteran's Room and display. There are tours every Sunday and at other times by arrangement. A paved walking trail makes getting around the Village a pleasure. Most buildings are handicapped accessible. Admission is free but donations are always welcomed.

Ready for a North Dakota Treasure Hunt?

North Dakota's State Parks Offer Amazing Geocaching Opportunities

We won't say "there's gold in them hills!" but we won't discourage you from shouting the same should you decide to take part in one of the best pasttimes available in the Sheyenne River Valley — treasure hunting.

Geocaching, high-tech treasure hunting with the help of a Global Positioning System (GPS), provides another opportunity for outdoor adventure the whole family can enjoy. The North Dakota State Parks System offers a wide variety of natural and historic settings, landmarks and architectural works, to make this state a great getaway for an enjoyable geocaching experience.

Geocaching is an excellent activity for any age or skill level. Explorers can find a cache container as common as a peanut butter jar or disguised as an ordinary rock. You never know what you may find, or where — but it's not so much about the reward at the end, and more the adventure you're sure to have along the way. Geocachers are a community all of their own, and there's some rules to follow — when you take something, be sure to put something in exchange for it. This way, no two geocachers ever come away with the same treasure.

Come explore the state parks of North Dakota and test your cache-seeking skills in some of state's most scenic and historic settings. If you are interested in placing a cache in a state park, you can also download our geocache permit.

Visit www.geocaching.com, the official website where you can learn how to hide a cache, and how to start experiencing this fun and exciting scavenger hunt sport.

Keep on Hiking...

Take in the beauty of North Dakota on the many trails and paths available in our area.

Here are some of the most popular:

The Waterfall Hike in the Sheyenne State Forest starts 3 miles southeast of Fort Ransom on the Sheyenne River Valley Scenic Byway. A segment of the North Country Trail, it offers a 4.4 mile out-and-back segment to access North Dakota's only certified waterfall and two remote campsites (no toilet facilities). This segment offers many beautiful views of the river valley and wildlife viewing opportunities.

Clausen Springs Recreation Area to Kathryn is a 4.5-mile segment and is a great place to see pheasant and to hear the frogs in nearby ponds. The level grade makes for pleasant walking. An additional 2-mile loop around the lake offers pretty lake views, secluded camping and picnic areas, pine forests and an earthen dam. There are campsites, fresh water and restrooms available at both ends of this segment, with showers available at Clausen Springs.

Karnak WMA to Sibley is a 5-mile hike. South of Karnak Landing the marsh opens up to form Lake Ashtabula. A remote campsite about 4 ½ miles south of Karnak is available with a permit from the Corps of Engineers (701-845-2970). Watch the water and shoreline to spot green and blue herons, egrets, double crested cormorants, pelicans and a variety of ducks. At Sibley, hikers will find a café offering a great meal and a nearby swim beach.

The Sheyenne River Valley Chapter offers scheduled hikes and fun events May through September. The chapter is always looking for new members who are interested in hiking, maintaining or building trail. For more information on hikes and events, the North Country National Scenic Trail or trail maps, visit the local chapter's website at www.northcountrytrail.org/srv, the national website at www.northcountrytrail.org or call Deb Koepplin at (701)845-2935.

Ronald Reagan Minuteman Missile Site

555 113th 1/2 Ave. NE, Cooperstown • 701-797-3691 • www.history.nd.gov/historicsites/minutemanmissile

North Dakota found itself on the front line during the Cold War, housing over 300 missiles at various sites across the state. One of those facilities, the Ronald Reagan Minuteman Missile Site, is now a state historic landmark. The two sites that are part of the missile site, Oscar-Zero Missile Alert Facility and the November-33 Launch Facility, preserve and share the story of the Minuteman missile system as well as the people working and living at the sites.

At Oscar-Zero, visitors experience a guided tour of the topside facilities and learn how the facility managers, security forces, maintenance teams, and chefs lived their daily lives at the MAF. Guests can also ride an elevator 60 feet below ground to the Launch Control Equipment Building and Launch Control Center. There, they will step into the past and see first-hand the concrete blast door and equipment that missile crews were prepared to use if it came time to launch nuclear missiles.

- Normal operating dates: March to October
- Open by appointment in winter months
- Admission fee for tours
- Oscar-Zero is located four miles north of Cooperstown on Hwy 45. November-33 is two miles east on Hwy 200
