Greetings from Mayor Mike Cooney

Welcome to Chelan!

There are very few places on this earth that feels like home when you are away on vacation and the City of Chelan is certainly one of them. Many families have come for years and some are just starting that tradition, either way I'd like to personally welcome you to our special town.

The incredible vistas that surround our city are only outdone by the warmth and character of our year round residents. There is much to do while you are visiting, water sports, hiking, mountain and road biking, shopping historic downtown, visiting our first-class wineries and just plain relaxing in our unbeatable environment. My wife and I moved from the west side looking for a better quality of life, and by golly, we found it!

A must see is our Lake Chelan Chamber of Commerce and Visitor Center located downtown at 216 E. Woodin Ave.

We have many exciting projects that are either underway or planned for the near future that will help both; our full-time residents and visitors alike. We are constantly working to improve our infrastructure, our park system and our neighborhoods. We have a very responsive city administration that has a strong customer service orientation from our Councilmembers, Staff, our great crews, City Administrator and Mayor. We all want your stay to be safe, enjoyable and memorable.

I have one request for each of you, enjoy the heck out of your visit but please leave it in better shape than you found it...we cherish our hometown.

Best Regards,
 Mike Cooney

BOATING

More than 60 percent of Lake Chelan's shoreline can be reached only by boat as it extends into the North Cascades National Park and wilderness areas. Whether it's an exploration into the wild upper lake or water skiing and other recreation on the lower end, launch docks, boat rentals and tours are available to anyone who wishes to get out on the lake.

BOAT FUEL

Boat fuel is available at Lake Chelan Marina, Watson's Resort, Kelly's Resort, 25-Mile Creek State Park and Stehekin.

PUMP OUT STATIONS

Pump-out stations can be found at Lakeshore Marina, Old Mill Park, Manson Bay Marina, Fields Point

you remove and properly dispose of all plant material from your boat and trailer before they hit the water. Carry a bag to collect your trash, and dispose of it when you return to shore. This applies to sewage as well – bring a porta-potty or make sure your holding tank is well sealed. Sewage should leave your boat only at a pump-out station. Bilge water is not to be pumped into the lake. Boat washing must be done on shore to keep chemical cleaners from entering the lake. Exhaust systems must meet legal requirements and be in good working order. To find out how to dispose of used oil and other chemicals, call 509-682-8029.

RIVER RAFTING

Lake Chelan's pace may be slow for those seeking the thrills of whitewater. In which case, a trip to the head of the lake is in order. That is where you'll find the remote village of Stehekin and the white waters of the Stehekin River. Starting at Bullion Launch, a 10-mile course leads to the river's delta. American Whitewater rates this stretch of rapids as Class 2, but outfitters who once led tours on the river call it a 2-plus. A put-in one half mile

RULES OF THE WATER

Help us keep Lake Chelan clean, it is important to dispose of milfoil, a weed that interferes with swimming, boating and fishing. Milfoil is carried on the propellers or other parts of boats being transported from one body of water to another. The weed looks feathery, with at least a dozen pairs of leaflets. Make sure upstream at Agnes Creek adds a Class 4 rapid and starting at the Tumwater Campground makes the run a Class 4/5. The Stehekin is faster than most Class 2 rivers and has a number of hazardous log jams. The second half of the ride is considerably smoother, but boaters still need to look out for woody debris. For a guided tour, contact Stehekin Valley Ranch. The tour is mostly a fun float down the Stehekin River with a couple of good bumps, wetsuits are available as well. ## CANOEING, KAYAKING & PADDLEBOARDING

Lake Chelan offers the canoeist or kayaker an opportunity to escape the pressures of modern-day life for a few hours or even a few days. In the early morning and late afternoon, when the lake is calm and the majority of the watercraft is off the lake, a paddle around the lower basin is a unique and calming experience. For a more adventurous paddler, heading uplake in a canoe or kayak is the experience of a lifetime. The busy boat traffic gives way to quiet wild beauty still largely unknown to most visitors. There are a number of campgrounds accessible by water for camping along the way. Be sure to get through the narrows before the winds that like to kick up in the afternoon making maneuvering difficult. The Columbia River offers another paddling opportunity between the Wells Dam and Rocky Reach Dam. Beavers, eagles, ducks, geese and other fowl have made this area their home. There are many boat launching places in this area, making it ideal for long or short paddling trips and rentals are available.

PERSONAL WATERCRAFT

With such an expansive surface, Lake Chelan is in no danger of running out of room for boaters. All the same, there are those who prefer motorboat's smaller, more maneuverable cousin, the personal watercraft (PWC). You need not own a PWC, as several rental agencies offer them here. As for every other vehicle on the water, certain regulations govern the operation of personal watercraft. Most importantly, a Coast Guard-approved life jacket must be worn during operation. Drivers must be at least 14 years of age, and minors must ride with an adult. You must be 18 to rent a personal watercraft. Water-skiing and other towing is prohibited from PWCs. The only exception is when the craft's manufacturer has rated it for three passengers and an observer is onboard to keep an eye on the person being towed.

FISHING

Fishing fans will find Lake Chelan and surrounding lakes and rivers to be an unending treasure chest of excellent fishing. Numerous local guides escort fishermen around the lake. Fishermen can also choose their own spot to celebrate old traditions and begin new ones, create new memories and take home a plethora of wonderful fish stories.

WALKING & JOGGING

Chelan Riverwalk Park Loop Trail lies on both sides of the Chelan River, between the old bridge, near Campbell's Resort and the Dan Gordon Bridge. Walkers and joggers alike enjoy this scenic one-mile river loop trail, with benches and scenic viewpoints, to rest or enjoy the scenery.

The Reach 1 Trail is a three-mile round-trip walk that overlooks the Chelan Dam and the Chelan River. It takes you from the Riverwalk Park Loop Trail to Reach 1 of the Chelan River – the uppermost section of a 4-mile river that flows down to join the Columbia River at Chelan Falls. The first section of trail begins at the boat launch on the south side of the Chelan River. This half-mile section is paved and accessible to all. Along this part of the trail, visitors will learn about the

The Chelan High School Football field located on upper Woodin Avenue has a quarter-mile track for those walkers and joggers who prefer a softer surface.

HANG GLIDING & PARAGLIDING

During the hot summer months, hang glider and paraglider pilots from around the world come to Chelan to soar our famous air. Pilots launch from Chelan's Sky Park on top of Chelan Butte, using rising pockets of hot air called thermals to lift them 9,000 to 12,000 feet above sea level. Hang glider pilots can then travel as far as Idaho or Canada. Hang gliding and paragliding are extreme sports that are generally not spectator friendly, but a trip to the top of the Chelan Butte to watch the pilots launch is worth the drive. The best viewing time is between noon and 2 p.m., when the thermals become active. A dirt road that switches back and forth up the butte will take you to the top – the ride is slow and quite bumpy. Access Chelan Butte Road across the highway from the Lakeside Lodge on the south shore. Smoking is a fire hazard and is not allowed on the butte. Bring plenty of liquids and sunscreen – the sun is relentless up there.

CHELAN FISH HATCHERY

Located near the Columbia River north of Chelan Falls, Chelan Fish Hatchery is a state fish hatchery, working in concert with the Chelan County Public Utility District and local outdoor sporting groups. One of the main focuses of the hatchery is raising rainbow and cutthroat trout that end up in lakes and rivers in Chelan, Douglas, Kittitas and Okanogan counties. Visitors are welcome at the hatchery Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Large groups can set up tours by appointment. Call the hatchery at 509-682-5514 for more information. The hatchery is located

The natural spring area has trails, viewing platforms, sculptures and educational and interpretive facilities. A Discover Pass is required for parking.

NORTH CASCADES SPORTSMAN'S CLUB

The North Cascades

For information or to become a member, visit www.chelangunclub.com

SOUTH SHORE DRIVES

A drive along the south shore will lead you to Fields Point, a small park with picnic tables, a swimming hole and an informational kiosk with a 3D relief map of the Lake Chelan basin. Continuing on, the pavement ends at 25 Mile Creek.

For the next section, a four-wheel drive vehicle is necessary. Get on to 25 Mile Creek Road and then Shady Pass Road. Follow it and this will turn into Forest Road 5900, bringing you past Junior Point Look-out and then over the mountains and into the Entiat Valley. You can also take 25 Mile Creek Road up to Shady Pass Road and into the Ramona Park area. Then head on to Forest Road 8410, which will bring you along Slide Ridge and into the Windy Camp and Stormy Mountain areas for some fantastic views.

Note of caution: These roads can get very confusing and sometimes forks in the road are unsigned, so it's advised to get a map of the Wenatchee National Forest from Chelan Ranger Station. Check your route with them and make sure the roads are passable.

The dirt road that winds up Chelan Butte makes for a shorter trip. The butte rises above downtown Chelan to an elevation of 3,800 feet, and offers unbeatable views of Chelan and the lake, the Columbia River and the flatlands to the east. To get there, head out of downtown Chelan and turn left onto Millard Street at the sign for Chelan Butte Road. Follow it up beyond the pavement and then choose your adventure. Continue on Chelan Butte Road to drop down to the other side of the hills to Stayman Flats or go up Butte Lookout Road for views of Lake Chelan and Lake Entiat.

NORTH SHORE DRIVES

The north shore offers a relaxed, well-traveled path to Manson on Highway 150, about eight miles from downtown Chelan. Manson is full of apple orchards and new ag-tourism businesses including an ever-growing number of wineries, and boasts the Manson Loop.

The loop begins in downtown Manson and then goes west along Wapato Way. Turn right onto Manson Boulevard and drive up the hill to Summit Boulevard. Take it north to Loop Avenue and then down to the left turn onto Manson Boulevard. Go east to the right turn onto Wapato Lake Road, then head south (Wapato Lake will be on your left and Roses Lake on your right) until you hit Roses Lake Avenue. Turn right and head west, then turn left onto Green Avenue. Back up the hill and then down the hill brings you back into downtown Manson.

Maps and information on these routes are available at the Chelan Ranger Station Office at 428 W. Woodin Avenue or call 509-682-4900.

SNOWMOBILING

Lake Chelan has been recognized as the best snowmobiling area in the state and one of the top 15 in the western U.S. by SnoWest magazine. The U.S. Forest Service maintains 170 miles of groomed trails - mainly Forest Service roads - in three major valleys. The areas have become so popular that the Forest Service recently intensified its grooming regimen.

Snowmobilers access the trails from six local sno-parks: the Entiat Valley, 25 Mile Creek on the south shore of Lake Chelan, Antilon Lake and Echo Valley on the north shore, and Gold Creek in the Methow Valley.

Antilon Lake in Manson has a system of 102 miles worth of trails, where facilities are available along the routes. There are also snow shelters and scenic viewpoints throughout. At Echo Ridge, just 10 miles west of Chelan, find 100 miles of trails spanning to 2,640 feet in elevation; sanitary facilities are available. Prepare for souvenirs on your tasting adventure!
 It's good practice to pack a cooler in hot temperatures to avoid spoilage.
 Drink in the difference that Lake Chelan offers for local tastings with it's sunshine on your face, and crystal clear, glacier fed waters for panoramic beauty at every sip along the way.

Washington Wine Country is at its peak in the breathtaking Lake Chelan Valley. But don't limit yourself while visiting! Be sure to stop in to try Lake Chelan's homegrown ciders and glacier-born brews, new to the valley.

WINE COUNTRY

The Lake Chelan American Viticulture Area, or AVA, is one of only 13 such uniquely designated viticultural areas in Washington State. Ice-age glaciers covered by layers of volcanic ash form a perfect soil for grapes and the lakeside micro climate of bright sunny days and lake-cooled nights also provide the perfect environment for growing grapes. Wines with the Lake Chelan AVA designation must be made with at least 85 percent of the grapes grown in the AVA region. The result is wines that are distinct from wines produced anywhere else in the world.

Lake Chelan wines are special. Currently there are more than two dozen wineries that call this unique growing area home, and competition between them is fierce resulting in some of the best wines in the world. While a some of the valley's wineries are large-scale production houses, selling thousands of cases each year, most are small, family-run operations featuring handmade boutique wines and annual sales of only a few hundred cases. But don't conclude small means unsophisticated. All of the local vintners take their wines very seriously, making these wines truly remarkable.

The wineries surrounding Lake Chelan are also unique. They include beautifully designed facilities that offer restaurants, bistros and gift shops to quaint boutique wineries nestled in the hills surrounding the lake. Each of these seems to have a special wine that defines their individual winemaking skill.

Lake Chelan's expanding wine industry is drawing thousands of tourists every year to taste the latest crop. Join in the harvest parties during the October crush, or the wine and chocolate winter tastings, held in February.

You don't have to leave the kids at home to enjoy area wineries. Many wineries offer tours that are kid friendly, and others have play equipment, koi ponds and grassy areas to run or picnic in.

HARD CIDER & BREWERIES

Cidermaking is similar to wine-making, as fresh-pressed juice is transformed to cider, through fermentation. Each apple variety can impart specific characteristics to the finished product, making every cider unique, and cider-tasting an educational and interactive way to experience Lake Chelan apples. Lake Chelan's glacial waters also create local ale flavors for brewers' tasting bars in both Manson and Chelan.

FARMERS' MARKETS

While wine is the most recent addition to ag-tourism in the valley, Lake Chelan has long been a predominant player in the agricultural community. Generations of growers have harvested apples and other tree fruit from the valley's rolling hills. Families can find U-pick berry farms, fruit stands, and other diverse shopping experiences.

World class wines await visitors
