Hello

Welcome to our new list for 2019, featuring our widest selection of fine quality wines from around the globe. Contemporary favourites nestle comfortably amongst classics and the 52 new wines that grace these pages ensure a choice that's both at the cutting edge of market trends and guaranteed to suit your business.

This year's cover is designed to reflect the tasting note of a Provence rosé - 'A beautiful pale shade of pink, this bone dry wine boasts affluent stone fruit aromas of peaches and apricots, followed by a refreshing note of grapefruit alongside a backdrop of savoury Provencal herbs'. The cover photograph, taken in 1960, features my grandfather Egbert Barnes - a champion of both our wine division and the old Brewery gardens - doing what he enjoyed best, savouring the bouquet of a particularly fine wine.

While politicians debated Brexit last year, European vine growers were at least relieved to experience near perfect growing conditions following the devastating crop of 2017 vintage. Prosecco in Italy, Chablis in France and Rioja in Spain all produced high quality grapes at the expected quantity of production.

As a result actual wine prices were stable, though downward exchange rate pressure and increasing costs of glass and freight has meant some gentle wine increases. We have tried to keep these to a minimum in such challenging economic times and worked closely with our loyal suppliers to spread the burden.

It wasn't just our continental partners who benefitted from the warm summer and for the first time we are featuring a red English wine - Knightor Carpe Diem Red made from Pinot Noir, Regent and Rondo grape varieties. We are also talking to the Royal Agricultural University in Cirencester about stocking Cotswold Hills wine - the first ever sparkling English wine in a can that is fully recyclable and vegan.

Vegan wines have been growing in importance, perhaps more so than organic. We have 130 wines that are certified vegan and the number grows month by month as we take on new wines and existing wines change to vegan production methods.

Our new additions to the list comprise some new regions that we haven't represented before, such as Villa Dante Verdicchio from the Marche region in Italy - a crisp dry white in a beautiful shaped bottle, and some more mainstream wines like Yallaroo Shiraz from South East Australia.

2018 saw us as proud recipients of the Queen's Award for Sustainable Development. As an extension of our commitment to both the local and wider community and environment, we have partnered with Cornwall Wildlife Trust to support their ongoing Living Seas project through one of our new wine offerings, The Deep. More of that on page 121.

As always, we thank you for your custom and hope you will have as much pleasure exploring our extensive new range for 2019 as we have had putting it together for you.

When you choose us as your wine supplier, we'll give you guidance and ongoing support, from picking the perfect wines to making the most of your new offering.

We're happy to arrange a tasting if you'd like to meet the team and sample our wines. Once you've finalised your list, we can give you a hand in organising and running events to reveal your new selection to your customers, from setting up and spreading the word to talking through the tasting notes and telling the stories behind the wines.

We Know Wine

Our founder, Walter Hicks, set up in business as a wine and spirit merchant in 1851 before trying his hand at making beer. James Staughton, Walter's great-great-grandson, was also Wine & Spirits Director before becoming CEO, making our wine business a truly family affair and a key part in the business from the very beginning. We have secured stocks of many rare and old wines, some of which are held in our temperature controlled unit, while some are held under lock and key in the depths of the cellar at St Austell Brewery. We always try to work with like-minded family wine producers from around the world.

Wine List Design

To help you present your wines to your customers, we are able to offer a bespoke wine list design service.

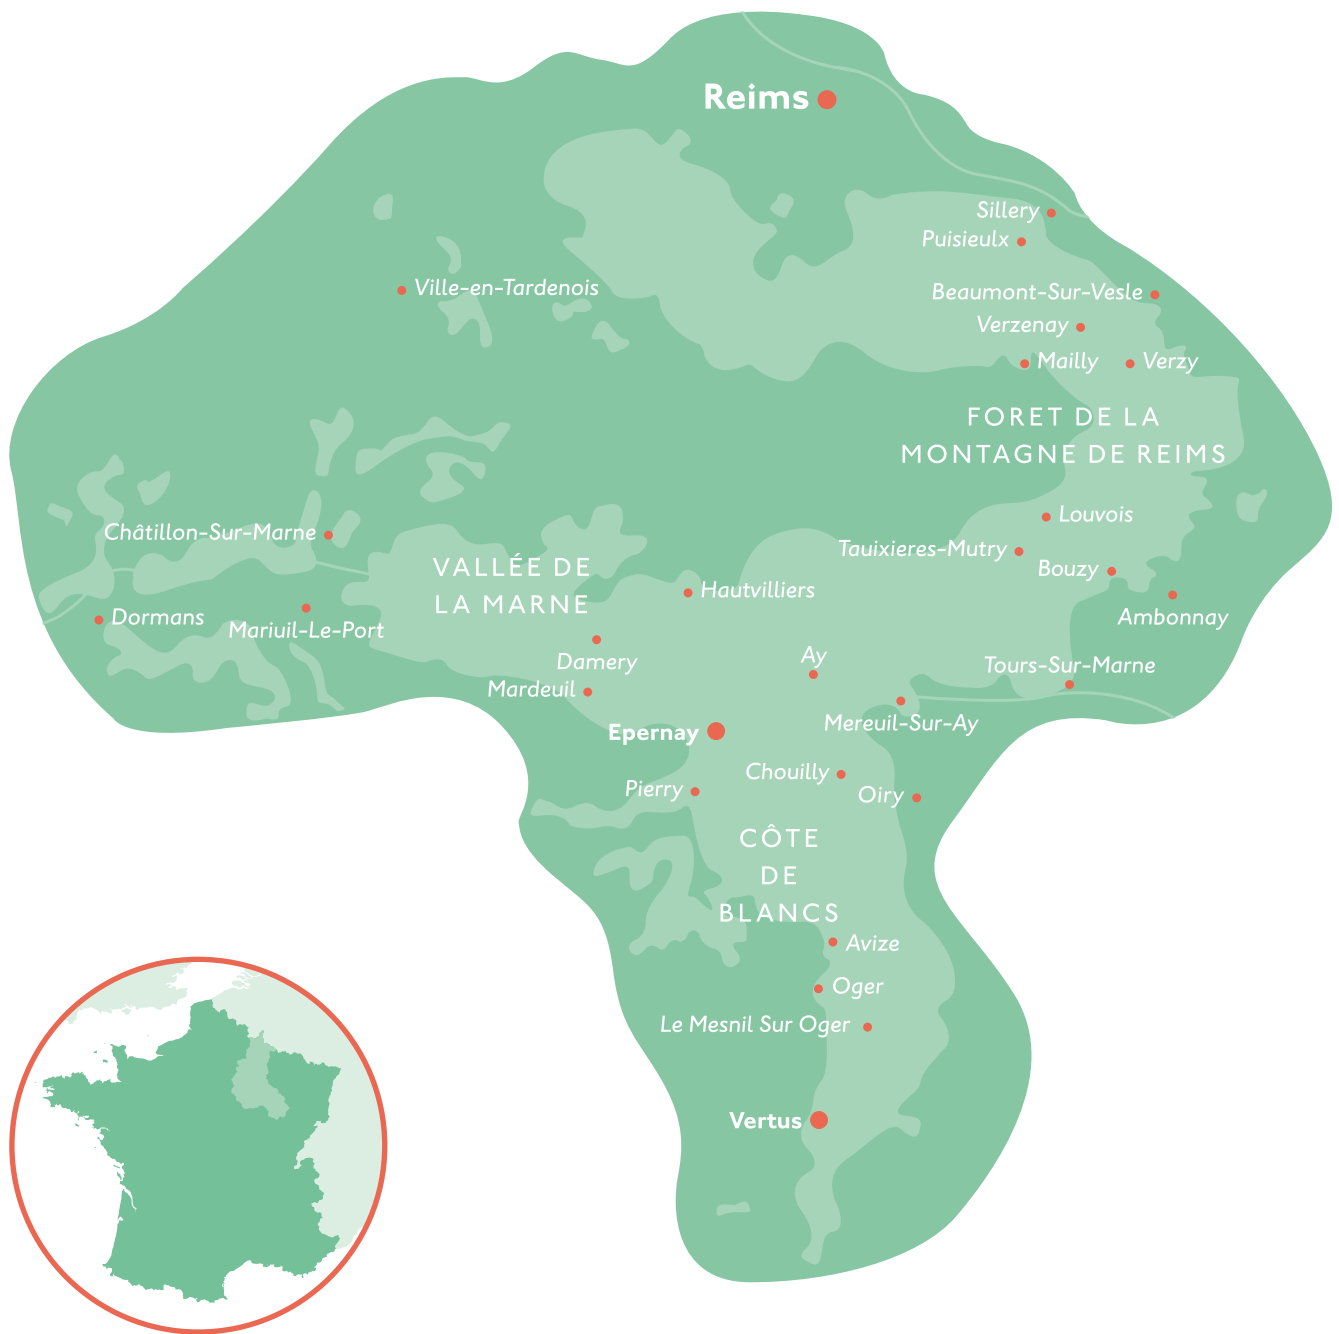

Our in-house team of talented designers will create a unique list tailored to your business, which can feature your logo, preferred font and colour palette to match your brand identity. If you don't have a specific style in mind, we can create something new from scratch, providing you with inspiration on how best to present yourselves and your wines to your customers. Once you're happy with the design, we'll have it professionally printed for you. Every detail is considered, from the size and style of the text to the type of paper we print it on. The result is an original and personalised list that will help you stand out to your customers.

Grow Your Wine Sales

Keeping a close eye on market trends and looking out for new wines, we'll keep you up to date to make sure that your wine list is always fresh and exciting. We provide staff training and formal qualifications, to develop your team's knowledge so that you can give your customers an informed and expert service. Our price structures are highly competitive, so you'll get the finest quality wines for excellent value.

We pride ourselves on our products and service with strong customer relationships at the heart of our business. If you would like to know more, please contact one of the team. We look forward to working with you.

Champagne

Wine has been produced in the Champagne region for over a thousand years, made mainly from cool climate grapes including Pinot Noir, Pinot Meunier and Chardonnay. Historically the cold winters of this northerly wine region halted fermentation before the alcoholic process was completed. With the onset of warmer springs, fermentation restarted and as a result produced carbon dioxide, which escaped in the form of a bubble. By the end of the seventeenth century the English had developed a taste for this bubbly wine, a taste that has been encouraged ever since!

"The House of Joseph Perrier is an individual and historic one. It is family-owned and this year sees the baton pass from fifth generation CEO Jean-Claude Fourman to his son Benjamin. Just like his father he has Champagne in his blood and the passion to continue spreading the word of this small but perfectly formed Grand Marque Champagne House. A must try is the Joseph Perrier Cuvée Royale Rosé Brut."

Despite its sweetness, Pol Roger Rich Demi Sec is remarkably refreshing and its acidity cuts right through any sweet richness leaving the palate cleansed. Perfect to serve with fruit cake or equally as fantastic with tarts and crumbles.

CHAMPAGNE BOLLINGER

MAISON FONDÉE EN 1829

Champagne Bollinger

At Champagne Bollinger, the brick walls, exposed wood floors, aged casks and rustic charm convey the beauty and tradition of a Champagne family, who have 190 years perfecting their secret of discreet luxury, the key to which lies in the quality and the detail of their wines. The natural, unassuming charm of the House continues with Cellar Master Gilles Descôtes, the grandson of a Champagne grower who has been amongst the vines from an early age. He is custodian of the five labyrinthine kilometres of cellars that run under the house in Ay, which remain as when the house was founded in 1829. The cellars guard the treasured Bollinger wines, including a matchless collection of over 750,000 magnums of reserve wines, poised and ready to be blended into the House's masterstroke of consistency; Bollinger Special Cuvée.

Sparkling Wine

Drinking habits have changed and sparkling is no longer just a drink for special occasions. Prosecco has been the driving force for sparkling wine growth over the last five years and has helped prop up the decline in wine consumption. It has hit the mark during this recent economic period of austerity and uncertainty, establishing itself as an everyday luxury. It is good value for money and an approachable easy-going style of fizz.

The U.K. is the number one market for Prosecco followed by Germany and the U.S.A. We now stock more than a dozen different styles and formats of Prosecco and during 2019 it looks very likely that it will become legally accepted to label pink sparkling from the Prosecco region as Prosecco Rosé.

It is also worth noting the increase in popularity of Cava from Spain, Crémant from non-Champagne French regions, and of course closer-to-home English wines which had a plentiful harvest last year.

With its vegan status, this quality Italian pink sparkler should be enjoyed by one and all. Villa Sandi il Fresco Rosé is dry, fresh and zesty with harmonious summer fruits. Known for its versatility we have chosen to pair it with a healthy but tasty vegan gluten free pizza.

Lyme Bay Winery, Devon

Working closely with selected growers across the South of England and with the ethos of quality being at the heart of everything they produce, Lyme Bay Winery is at the forefront of the English wine phenomenon. Winning 112 awards for their English wines between 2015 and 2018, Lyme Bay are championing the idea that English wine should be accessible and enjoyable by everyone.

With that in mind, the Brut Reserve has been developed as a fruit forward, crisp, sparkling wine that is a joy to experience with local seafood, as well as being delicious on its own. A pale gold colour in the glass with a vibrant mousse, this wine shows lemon, grapefruit and green apples following from the nose onto the palate. These combine with the refreshing acidity that English wines are renowned for to create a sparkling wine for Prosecco Lovers and Champagne aficionados alike!

Argentina

Malbec is the red grape of the moment and one that is most at home in Argentina. The grape arrived from France during the 1850s along with a host of other French and European varieties. Demand continues to grow and most wine lists now show an Argentinian Malbec often available by the glass.

Facts & Figures

Argentina is the fifth largest wine producer in the world, however a large amount of the wine produced is consumed on home shores.

Did You Know?

Argentina is also the largest exporter of wine into the U.S market.

"Argentina produces many different styles of red wine, from Bordeaux-style reds to their star of the show; Malbec. Cameleon Malbec from the wonderful region of Mendoza has ripe red berry flavours combined with a subtle hint of sweet spice. As a firm believer in what grows together goes together, I would pair this fantastic wine with a succulent Argentine steak."

Thai cuisine is fairly mainstream now, with beautiful, aromatic, spicy flavours appearing on many a menu but it often proves a challenging food and wine match. Argentina's key white grape Torrontés makes for a perfect match with its bright, fresh, perfumed character. Blue Horn Torrontés has classic flavours of rose petal, peach and lemon with a cleansing acidity that easily cuts through rich flavours.

LOS HAROLDOS

BODEGA & VIÑEDOS

Argentina

Bodega Los Haroldos

Trueno (Thunder) is produced by Bodega Los Haroldos, one of Argentina's leading family-owned wineries. With a history dating back to 1939 it is currently managed by the third generation Jorge Falasco with several of the fourth generation actively involved to ensure continuity and consistency for the future. Their vineyards are planted at premium high-altitude sites located within Mendoza, where the winters are chilly, summers are dry and hot, nights are cool and the vines are fed by the snow melt water from the Andes Mountains.

This is a majestic Malbec from the highly prized Uco Valley, which is a sub region of Mendoza and one of the best areas for its production in Argentina. High altitude vineyards and a state of the art winery with a real focus on quality help to produce this gem of a wine, delivering real depth and complexity. Trueno Malbec has a great purity of dark fruit flavours with ripe plum, chocolate and raisins, a hint of caramel and a nicely rounded oak finish.

Australia

Australia's focus is no longer on the cheap mass market wines, but on their regionality and the different styles these geographical variations can bring to the wine. We represent many of the key regions, especially the ever-popular Margaret River wines from Western Australia. Our entry level wines are carefully chosen from Warburn Estate, a family producer in South Australia, and have been highly acclaimed by wine critic Matthew Jukes.

Facts & Figures

The first vine cuttings were brought to Australia back in 1788 from the Cape of Good Hope in South Africa.

Did You Know?

The Northern Territory is the only state in Australia that does not grow wine, due to the scorching temperatures.

"St Austell Wines has had a long association with McHenry Hohnen, listing their range for many years, showing our faith in their quality. They are a perfect example of a Margaret River vineyard embracing biodynamic philosophies and practices. My favourite is the Amigos Shiraz-Grenache-Mataro, a red wine showing a Rhône-style depth of flavour and character. The blend gives warm spice and dark fruit character, perfectly pairing with a comforting Sunday Roast."

From South Australia this high quality Fiano has lifted tropical aromas and lemon scents. Creamy and nutty with an intense burst of nectarine and pear, it has loads of texture on the dry, fresh and savoury palate. Hancock & Hancock Fiano is a robust wine that can pair well with fiery, spicy dishes as well as shellfish.

HESKETH WINES

Australia

The Hesketh Wine Company

The Hesketh Wine Company is a small, family owned producer of high quality, yet accessible wines. Working with their own growers and processing their own wines like traditional wineries, rather than attempting to be all things to all people from one region, their approach is to remain focused on the individual strengths of different South Australian growing regions.

Hesketh wines are made in the Barossa Valley by winemakers Keeda Zilm, Andrew Hardy and James Lienert. Each wine is sourced from a small selection of specific vineyards in each region with fruit from their own vineyards in Coonawarra and the Barossa Valley, as well as from specialised local growers.

Their wines are made to a 'Hesketh' style, which is based on balance and complexity but more importantly, drinkability. These wines have generous flavours and aromatics which also retain a sense of place. Wines that reflect the vineyards they are grown in.

Yallaroo Shiraz, S.E. Australia

Yallaroo is a word taken from the Aboriginal language, which translates as 'beautiful flower'. This contemporary styled vibrant wine hails from the warm heart of Australia, using grapes sourced from family-owned and sustainably managed vineyards. The wine is expertly crafted to reflect the very best of Australia's winemaking heritage, showcasing a classic fruit-driven style and capturing the rich full flavours of the region. The nose has subtle aromas of raspberry and spice, with savoury blackcurrant and stewed plum characters on the palate, beautifully integrated with lingering vanilla oak flavours.

Austria

Almost all of Austria's vineyards are in the east of the country, far from the mountains that draw skiers from all over the world. Austrian wine production is made up of around 70% white wine with the country's most planted variety; national speciality Grüner Veltliner, which is planted across more than a third of Austria's total vineyard area.

Facts & Figures

White wine accounts for around 70% of Austrian wine production.

Weingut Malat, Kremstal

Situated below the glorious Stift Göttweig Abbey, Weingut Malat is just an hour's drive from Vienna in the heart of Lower Austria (Niederösterreich). Weingut Malat is a family estate where everyone works together to achieve the same goal – putting the best possible quality wine into the bottle, and exploring all possibilities to the limit. It is an internationally successful winery – a multi award-winning pioneer in Austria's Kremstal region as well as a founding member of the highly respected Association of Austrian Traditional Wine Estates.

The Crazy Creatures wines are made from 100% Grüner Veltliner. The strong and unique characters adorning the label of Crazy Creatures goes perfectly with the diverse flavour of Grüner Veltliner, which is Kremstal's most important grape variety and even more, the most important grape from Austria. Known for its spicy, herbal but also fruity aroma and a crisp fresh acidity, only the best grapes from the region are used in Crazy Creatures.

Chile

Chile is the longest country in the world from north to south but only the middle area is suitable for wine-growing. Further north it is too hot and further south it is too cold.

Facts & Figures

Chile is the only key wine producing country whose vineyards have never been affected by phylloxera; a vine eating bug that can destroy entire vineyard regions. This means that in Chile vines are often left ungrafted, leading many producers to practice organic viticulture, though many choose not to gain certification due to the hefty expense.

Did You Know?

Chile is home to the most widely planted grape in the world; Pais. It is rarely seen outside of the country but accounts for the majority of local consumption.

"Although the Viognier grape originates from the French Rhône Valley, it now flourishes in the warm climates of Chile. Elegant and silky Secret Viognier has an abundance of fresh and highly complex aromas of ripe pears with tropical and citrus fruits. A wine well worth discovering."

Surrounded by volcanoes and rivers, where the natural soil, wind, rain and temperature combine to create this fragrant wine rich in aromas of citrus, minerals and tropical fruit. Very fruit driven with fresh acidity and a creamy texture ending in a lingering finish, Villa Rosaura Sauvignon Blanc Reserva is perfect to accompany seafood dishes.

Viña Agustinos

Located in a privileged spot in Southern Chile, with an abundance of volcanoes and rivers that flow through its vineyards, Viña Agustinos was conceived to produce wines of the highest quality in a context of total sustainability. To achieve that, the winery has incorporated environmentally friendly and minimally invasive practices into its processes, as well as constant care for its employees and their families.

The grapes come from a mixture of vineyards from several areas along the Central Valley, nestled between the Andes mountain range and the Pacific coast. Winemaker Diego Zabala strives to showcase the elegance and character of the wines produced in this unique terroir. He ensures that the health of the fruit is impeccable by harvesting only at optimal maturity from areas where the soils are of rich diversity to deliver these wines, which are young, well-balanced and full of fresh fruit.

San Elian, Central Valley

The Central Valley is the powerhouse of Chilean wine. The grapes benefit from the climate, warm dry summers and natural irrigation due to the rivers carrying melted snow from the Andes. San Elian Rosé is a prime example of this, bright pale pink in colour with elegant and complex aromas of fresh fruits such as cherries, watermelon and cantaloupe accompanied by some delicate floral notes. With a refreshing acidity, this is an extremely versatile rosé, packed full of fresh fruit and ideal for those seeking a glass to enjoy on its own or as a wine to accompany food. The San Elian Rosé is perfect paired with grilled fish, salads or white meat dishes.

England

The U.K. is a premium wine producing region with around 500 vineyards in England and Wales. We are fortunate enough to represent six of the leading wineries in Cornwall and Devon and work closely with them to develop the interest and sales in these exciting wines.

Facts & Figures

Chardonnay is the top planted grape in the U.K. at 23% of vineyard plantings, followed by Pinot Noir at 22% and Bacchus at 8%. Sparkling wine and still white wines are the most successful styles of wine for UK production.

Did You Know?

Grapes most suited to our maritime climate are primarily those associated with the similarly cool climate of Germany such as Reichensteiner and Dornfelder, and those used in the production of Champagne.

"To say that Pebblebed Dry White is hand-crafted would be an understatement. From vineyards in Clyst St George, just outside Exeter, Alex plants Madeline Angevine and Seyval Blanc to blend this unique, interesting wine. The 2015 shows how a white wine of this style can age; the Seyval remains fresh with mandarin peel and wet stone notes whilst the Madeline Angevine is allowed to show its true colours displaying pink grapefruit freshness and a yellow peach richness."

Polgoon thrive to produce outstanding quality, award-winning English wines like the vibrant pink, yet delicate Polgoon Rosé. Fresh Cornish crab from Newlyn, situated just two miles away from Polgoon's vineyard, matches perfectly. Simple, Cornish and delicious.

Knighthor Winery, Cornwall

Knighthor Winery is a producer of premium English still and sparkling wines, located in South Cornwall, a stones throw from the Eden Project. Set in a tranquil location above St Austell Bay, Knighthor is positioned within four acres of beautiful Cornish pasture, orchard and hedgerows, with a traditional threshing barn and granite courtyard providing the ultimate venue for weddings and special events throughout the year.

Using grapes grown in Knighthor vineyards in Portscatho and Seaton on the South Cornish coast, as well as other English vineyards, they create limited production still, sparkling wines and their very own English Vermouth. They are very passionate about winemaking and visitors are more than welcome to visit to discover how they make their English wines.

France - Alsace

In the rain-shadow of the Vosges Mountains, this unique region of France is famed particularly for aromatic whites such as Riesling and Gewürztraminer and is capable of producing wines that achieve higher alcohol levels while retaining the cool, aromatic edge. Beautifully presented in the classic Alsace flute, a wine from producer Michel Léon is a must for any good list.

Facts & Figures

Riesling and Gewürztraminer are amongst the most important varieties of the region and are designated 'noble' grape varieties. Unlike Germany, the traditional winemaking technique of the region is to ferment all of the grape sugar into alcohol, producing a dry full-bodied wine.

Did You Know?

The region used to be part of Germany and was called Elsass. The tall, green tapered bottles are a reflection of its Germanic past. Alsace has so many Michelin starred restaurants that it warrants its own specially enlarged box on the Michelin star map.

Gewürztraminer means 'spiced or perfumed Traminer', when put this way Michel Léon Gewürztraminer speaks for itself. A sensory overload, it has lychee, incense, ginger, smoke, grapefruit and pineapple. The list is endless. This wine is crying out for a dish that can meet it head on, that's why it has to be supped with a fruity and spicy lamb tagine.

France - Bordeaux

Perhaps one of the greatest and most famed wine producing regions in the world and yet one that is not forthcoming in its efforts to advise, educate, modernise or simplify. As an independent family owned wine merchant we are lucky to hold stocks of many parcels of fine vintages, appellations and Châteaux. Our wine specialists are on hand to talk through our offering to suit the price point and style of wines for your list.

Please note that we purchase select parcels of stock and therefore availability may be restricted. Whilst we endeavour to maintain these parcels, prices may fluctuate or change should new stock be purchased.

"Steeped in history, Château Citran was taken over by the Merlaut family in 1996 and was designated a historical monument heritage in 2012. French oak ageing adds wonderful complexity to the rich, rounded liquorice and hedgerow fruit resulting in a cracking wine that has become a Sunday lunch staple."

Aged in high quality French oak barrels, Château Giscours acquires its complexity as the months progress, combining aromas of dark fruits and spices with the oak, to reach a sublime balance. This Margaux blend has finesse, purity and a gentle refined elegance, it can be enjoyed with most dishes but try it at its best with a hearty beef pie.

Château Patache d'Aux

Descendants of the Counts of Armagnac, the Chevaliers d'Aux were the first owners of the domain in 1632. Considered as an asset of the country, it was expropriated in the fourth year of the French Revolution and turned into a relay station for horse-drawn carriages. It was better known early in the 19th century by the name of 'Pataches'. Classified as a Cru Bourgeois in 1932, this estate has been owned by the Lapalu family since 1964. Jean-Claude Lapalu took over the reins in 1996 and has gone on to produce powerful, concentrated wines that age extremely well, namely Château Patache d'Aux.

Bistrot Chic De La Mer

Nestled between the Garonne river to the south and the Dordogne to the north is the Entre-deux-Mers region. Entre-deux-Mers is the largest Bordeaux appellation, and is traditionally known for producing dry white wines, specifically Sauvignon Blanc, Semillon and Muscadelle varietals. A large proportion of the area is wooded or used as farmland with vineyards situated on gentle rolling hills intersected by a network of small rivers. In recent years white wines from this region have been making a comeback due to modernised winemaking and the demand for crisp, dry whites.

A great example of this is the Bistrot Chic Sauvignon Blanc–Semillon. It is a new and exciting addition to our list for 2019 and is full of intense aromas of grapefruit and boxwood. This young, crisp-dry style Bordeaux is brimming with white peach, lime, citrus and a touch of honey on the palate for all to savour.

France - Burgundy

If Bordeaux is the King of wine regions then Burgundy is the Queen with its elegant Pinot Noirs and classic Chablis. Chardonnay is the most widely planted grape for the whites and Pinot Noir for the reds (with the exception of Gamay in Beaujolais). Such refined wines command very high prices, not least with the recent poor vintage and exchange rate influence, but once in the glass these wines reveal their wondrous character that secures their reputation as the world's finest. We are proud to have over 25 Burgundian wines for you to choose from whether for day-to-day drinking in style or something more special to adorn your list.

Please note that we purchase select parcels of stock and therefore availability may be restricted. Whilst we endeavour to maintain these parcels, prices may fluctuate or change should new stock be purchased.

"Beaujolais is the most southerly appellation of Burgundy where unlike the rest of the region, Gamay is the dominant grape variety. Of the ten demarcated villages or Cru, Fleurie is one of the lightest and offers blueberry and bubblegum flavours and, as the name suggests, a delicate floral note. Enjoy Cave des Grands Vins de Fleurie served slightly chilled with cured meats, pâtés, grilled vegetables and salads."

The terroir of Chablis has both excellent acidity and remarkable finesse. Thanks to a long ageing on fine lees, Chablis Saint Martin offers the typical minerality of this wine region. Perfect as an apéritif or to pair with seafood, prawns or shellfish.

Maison Louis Latour

The Latour family began as vine growers in Aloxe-Corton as early as 1760s and went on to establish Maison Louis Latour, in 1797. The company has been in family ownership for 11 generations and is now led by Louis-Fabrice Latour.

Maison Louis Latour owns almost 50 hectares of Grand Cru, Premier Cru and communal vineyards in the Côte d'Or, representing the largest single holding of Grand Cru vineyards in the region. Maison Louis Latour's Domaine wines are produced at Château Corton Grancey using traditional techniques and almost entirely made by hand. Louis Latour adopted sustainable farming methods over 15 years ago and work to protect the ecosystems within their own vineyard and the wider environment. In 1998 they gained FARRE accreditation and in 2003, ISO 14001 Environmental Management Systems. They were instrumental in the creation of the Paysage de Corton, who work to protect and promote the health and biodiversity of the Corton hillside.

France - Loire

The Loire vineyard area stretches from the west coast Nantes area with its bone dry, sea-fresh Muscadets, through to Central Loire with sweeter Vouvrays and dry fruity Touraine Sauvignons. From there it flows to the Upper Loire, the Central Valley – almost in the centre of the country – and home to the villages of Pouilly Fumé, Sancerre and Menetou-Salon, with their superb minerally, flinty wines.

Facts & Figures

The Loire Valley is the biggest producer of white wine in France, and produces 20% of the whole country's wine. The U.K. is its biggest export market and the wines are perfectly suited to fresh fish and seafood.

Did You Know?

The town of Sancerre is famed for not only its stunning Sauvignon Blancs but also its goats, and therefore cheese. The phrase 'if it grows with it, it goes with it' couldn't be more apt.

If the Pouilly-Fumé appellation had Grand Crus, then Les Roches would be one of them. A crystal clear wine with green and gold tinged highlights. Elegant and refined, it has a wonderful expression of white flowers, citrus and stone fruit flavours. A slight exotic side adds to the complexity and makes it versatile with an array of fish and chicken dishes.

Maison Saget La Perrière

Maison Saget La Perrière is first and foremost a family affair, the story of Jean-Louis and Marie-Claire Saget and their two sons Arnaud and Laurent. Born into a family of wine growers based in Pouilly-sur-Loire for generations, Jean-Louis Saget successfully grew the business from a small firm into Maison Saget La Perrière, one of the most respected companies in the Loire Valley. He achieved this in just a few decades thanks to his modern vision of the wine world.

Arnaud and Laurent Saget are the present-day custodians of this distinctive heritage and are proud to be able to reach out to a broad-ranging audience with the countless gems in the Loire's wine region. Passionate, rigorous and committed are undoubtedly the words that best describe the teams surrounding the Saget family. As his company grew, Jean-Louis Saget successfully expanded his workforce and instilled in it the desire to see a job well done. Laurent and Arnaud Saget feel strongly about nurturing this same spirit within the company in order to consolidate its image as a Loire wine specialist.

France - Rhône

Rhône is a versatile and highly productive region that creates some serious rival wines to the great names of Bordeaux and Burgundy. There are also some fabulous everyday drinking wines which have benefitted from good vintages in recent years. The region is separated into two main areas; Northern Rhône which is responsible for only a small percentage of total production but is home to many premium wines. Southern Rhône accounts for the largest percentage of total production in the region due to a far greater area under vine, producing an impressive range of wines. Production in Rhône consists mainly of red wines but the whites are well worth discovering.

Please note that we purchase select parcels of stock and therefore availability may be restricted. Whilst we endeavour to maintain these parcels, prices may fluctuate or change should new stock be purchased.

Facts & Figures

Northern Rhône where Syrah is the dominant grape, accounts for only 5% of all production in the region, and Southern Rhône, where Grenache is king, accounts for the other 95%.

Did You Know?

It's always mentioned that 13 different grapes are used in Châteauneuf-du-Pape. Sometimes you will see it as 14 if Grenache Noir and Grenache Blanc are counted as two different varieties.

The South of Rhône produces full and rich red wines with herbal notes due to the warm climate. One of our favourites is Châteauneuf-du-Pape, Auguste Bessac. It is slightly tannic and has a touch of spice and a smoothness that wraps lovingly around a fillet steak. A match like no other.

Colombo & Fille

A rising star from the Rhône and one of the youngest from the region. Made in limited quantities by Laure Colombo, this boutique label is an inspired and personal story best told by Laure herself.

"Growing up in Cornas has not always been an easy thing! I would have loved to take the tube to go to school, to spend my Wednesday afternoons at the public gardens and to feed the pandas at the zoo before sunset. Instead, I had to take the "Rue Pied la Vigne", lined with cherry trees and old vine stocks of Syrah in order to reach school. My parents never pushed me to follow in their footsteps and become a winemaker like them. Instead, I chose to travel. I travelled until one morning in New Delhi I realised that the magic potion from my childhood was taking hold. I was missing the vines and the cellar that were so familiar to me. It's when you are far away that the things that are so common become so precious. Without noticing it my roots were coming back. Since that morning, the magical potion has invaded my entire person and the passion had become a reality."

France - South

Provence and Languedoc-Roussillon produce five times the amount of wine made in Australia, encompassing a great diversity of soils, grape types and wine styles. It is also the oldest grape growing region of France with many vineyards dating back to Roman times and a host of lesser known grape varieties that are now finding popularity with wine enthusiasts. The wines offer excellent value for money, and are very fruit forward appealing to most modern day palates.

Facts & Figures

The South of France is the single largest wine producing region in the world, being responsible for more than a third of France's total wine production.

Did You Know?

Despite the size of the region, the area is the least populated part of France with only approximately ten residents per mile.

Sand Tropez Rosé is a fantastic Provence rosé, pale pink with salmon coloured highlights. Dry in style, fresh with notes of citrus and exotic fruit. Refreshing and fruity on the palate with a lovely smooth finish. This wine is always a winner by itself but can also be enjoyed with light tasty bites such as tapas.

Mas La Chevalière

In the heart of Languedoc in the South of France, Mas La Chevalière is both a vinegrower and a winemaker. Estate wines come from two outstanding vineyards: Roqua Blanca and Peyroli. A place with plenty of sun, Roqua Blanca is dedicated to red varieties. Located at 150m altitude, the vineyard benefits from a cooling influence of the sea and a high temperature contrast between day and night. It is divided into several parts with different soil types where you can find clay, limestone and marls. White grapes are grown at Peyroli, a breathtaking vineyard at high altitude between 400 and 500 metres. Clay-limestone soil and cooler conditions make the place a perfect terroir for fine Chardonnay.

Laurent MIQUEL

Laurent Miquel

The Miquel family have worked the vines of their estate high in the Languedoc hills for eight generations. Pushing traditional boundaries, Laurent and his father Henri are natural pioneers, whose bold and innovative thinking helped build their reputation as key champions of the Languedoc. Their philosophy is simple: only superior grapes can be used to create the ultimate fine wines. This philosophy is visible in all actions at the Château: planting the appropriate vines (Henri Miquel first planted the Syrah varietal over 35 years ago and they now have some of the oldest Syrah in the region) and maintaining a top class vineyard using natural methods. They also ensure very low yields on all the vines and pay scrupulous attention to detail at harvest time. They carry out the individual vinification of each of their 92 parcels according to the specific fruit characteristics. In 2009 they acquired Château Les Auzines in Lagrasse, a magnificent estate in the Corbières Appellation. Isolated on a rocky plateau at 350m the land offered ideal conditions for aromatic white wines. To continue the adventure of creating Les Grands Blancs du Languedoc, Laurent decided to plant a substantial acreage of the Albarino grape, making him the first winemaker in France to do so.

Germany

We are keeping a close eye on sales of German wines. We still have plenty of demand for the sweeter Riesling styles of yesteryear but also see growing interest in different styles of Riesling at higher price points. Riesling grows well in Germany due to the northerly latitude giving the grape balanced acidity and delicate flavours. The different soil types adapt the way the grapes grow and taste in the glass.

Facts & Figures

German Pinot Noir is known as Spätburgunder, and is the most popular style on the domestic market. It is the third most planted variety in the country after white grapes Müller-Thurgau and Riesling.

Did You Know?

German wines are categorised using the Prädikat System, a means of using the ripeness of the grapes to determine the sweetness of the wine, or the amount of residual sugar left after fermentation. It does not refer to literally how sweet a wine is.

Kendermanns Riesling Special Edition is steely dry, cool, firm and confident. With its vibrant acidity, minerality and notes of pear, passion fruit and peach, it pairs superbly with a pork or chicken terrine and a rustic crusty loaf.

Italy

The appetite for Prosecco and Pinot Grigio continues but it is other grape varieties and the huge breadth of regions that excites when we talk Italian wine. Be it Appassimento, made with partially dried red grapes for added intensity, or a zesty Vermentino from Rocca di Montemassi in Tuscany, there are plenty to choose from and discover. There is also interest in more premium Pinot Grigios and sparklings that are more generous in flavour when paired with food.

"Beautifully presented in the traditional Verdicchio bottle, our new Villa Danti Verdicchio is a delicious dry white full of flavours of ripe apricots, bitter almonds and white flowers. Just perfect with all our amazing South West fish. It has been produced near the Adriatic coast of Italy since the seventh century but feels very relevant to today's tastes."

Albarossa is a hybrid grape made from Nebbiolo and Barbera, the other key red grape variety from Piedmont in North West Italy. La Lus Albarossa is oak-aged and tastes velvety and soft with forest fruit flavours. A match made for a rich beef lasagne.

Tenuta Ca' Bolani, Friuli Aquileia

Acquired In 1970, Tenuta Ca' Bolani is owned by the Zonin family, one of the most historic winemakers and producers in Italy, who have been vintners since 1821.

The Ca' Bolani estate is lined with 999 cypress trees that celebrate and protect its extraordinary biodiversity, where vines and nature thrive in perfect harmony. The estate lies between the Alps and the sea of Friuli, in the northeast part of Italy. This garden-like expanse of vineyards yields wines known for their distinctive traits of fragrance and aromatic fullness.

The two wines that best showcase the style produced by the Ca' Bolani estate are the Pinot Bianco, an extraordinarily elegant and fresh wine and the Cabernet Franc which is a full and fruit-driven wine.

San Alessandro, Puglia

The grapes used to create San Alessandro Trebbiano-Pinot Grigio are carefully selected from the Puglia region, one of most valued regions in Italy, by one of the largest privately owned wineries. Their team of winemakers carefully choose the grapes for their uniqueness and the commitment of the men and women who work tirelessly to ensure the wellbeing of the land. The grapes are grown slightly east of Campania on the Adriatic Sea, where the century-old tree trellis system is still in use today. The wine shows notes of freshly cut grass, bright fragrant fruit with hints of pear drops and citrus apple. It is perfect for enjoying with salad or fish dishes.

Lebanon

With the troubles in Syria, you would be forgiven for thinking that the Lebanese wineries had disappeared into the desert. In fact, they are thriving despite risking life and death to grow and harvest grapes. Lebanon is firmly staking its place amongst the wine firmament. Chateau Musar's red is still Lebanon's most celebrated wine described by many as one of the great wines of the world; a gamey blend of Cabernet, Cinsault and Carignan. For the first time we are listing two very different vintages from Chateau Musar, 2004 and 2011.

Please note that we purchase select parcels of stock and therefore availability may be restricted. Whilst we endeavour to maintain these parcels, prices may fluctuate or change should new stock be purchased.

Chateau Musar, Bekaa Valley

The wines of Chateau Musar are unique expressions from a country with an ancient wine-making culture, as wines have been cultivated from Lebanon's high altitude Bekaa Valley for over 6,000 years.

French in origin, the Hochar family arrived in Lebanon in the 12th century and have remained there ever since. Chateau Musar's red vineyards are situated towards the southern end of the Bekaa Valley, at relatively high altitudes and have the kind of calcareous, gravel and stone soils that encourage the production of high quality grapes. The grapes used to make the red wine are Cabernet Sauvignon and Southern Rhône varieties of Cinsault and Carignan from long established mature wines yielding a maximum of 30 to 35 hectolitres per hectare.

New Zealand

New Zealand Sauvignon sales in the South West on-trade continue to give double digit growth, and nearly all establishments now feature this familiar wine by the glass. For the aficionados, conversations are now about the different styles of Marlborough Sauvignon or new areas coming to the fore such as Nelson and Hawkes Bay. This can only be a good thing for New Zealand's wine development in the competitive U.K. market. It is also worth exploring the other varietals including Bordeaux-blend reds, Riesling and the heralded Pinot Noir.

Facts & Figures

Vines were first planted in 1819 but it took a further 150 years for New Zealanders to discover that their cool, maritime climate was suitable for high quality wine production.

Did You Know?

The wines of New Zealand are the first on the planet to see the sun each day.

Courgette fritters are a popular brunch or 'small plates' dish on Antipodean menus and a classic New Zealand Sauvignon Blanc such as Taring Sauvignon Blanc is a great match with its crisp freshness to contrast with the oily nature of the dish, and aromatic flavours to complement any spice in the fritters or accompanying sauce.

New Zealand

The Duchess Pinot Noir, Marlborough

The Duchess of Marlborough Pinot Noir has been crafted for us by Babich Wines, one of New Zealand's most successful wine estates. The label is loosely based on our very own Hester Parnall, Director of St Austell Brewery between 1911 and 1916, and then as Chairman between 1916 - 1939. If you see the picture of her in St Austell Brewery's Visitor Centre in Cornwall, you will notice the striking similarity between the two images. A medium weight, fruit driven style, supple and spicy with harmonious oak integration. Aromatic aromas of fresh mixed red berries; flavours of red cherries and plums. Ideal with charcuterie, ham and other cold meats; pâtés and terrines or goats' cheese.

Portugal

We have been talking up Portuguese wines for some time and their popularity has now come to fruition with healthy and growing sales across red, white and rosé wines. Indigenous grapes blended with international varietals, eye-catching labels, good value and excellent quality combine to make these wines a must on any wine list.

Facts & Figures

Portugal is the eleventh largest wine producer in the world. In a country that is 575 miles long and 138 miles wide, 500,000 acres are planted to grapevines.

Did You Know?

All the cork that is used for sealing wine bottles comes from Portugal.

Monte da Ravasqueira

Monte da Ravasqueira is a family-owned winery, located at 270m above sea level, in Arriaolos, with a typical Alentejo landscape of undulating plains. The 45 hectare winery was first established in 2002 and today both the viticultural and winemaking teams work hard to find the best match between tradition and innovation in the vineyards and in the winery. State of the art aerial photography and precision viticulture is used to determine the optimum time to harvest each wine.

The Monte da Ravasqueira Seleção do Ano Red is made from Touriga Nacional, Aragonez, Syrah and Alicante Bouschet grapes. This is a dark, dense red wine with a nose that offers up forest fruits, plums and figs with hints of oak. With its velvety texture, this wine has been designed to elevate the tasting experience. Serve with all kinds of gastronomy and for all occasions.

Romania

Eastern Europe is gaining ground in the quality wine production stakes with affordable, well-made, attractive looking wines from recognised grape varieties. Pinot Grigios carry more weight and flavour than some of their Italian counterparts making them more food-friendly and more memorable. The Pinot Noir, whilst simple in its offering, has all the character and body of the excellent and often far more expensive Pinot Noirs that we are familiar with from Burgundy.

Facts & Figures

Native varieties such as Feteasca Neagra are the most widely planted however the export market is dominated by international varieties such as Cabernet Sauvignon, Chardonnay and Merlot.

Did You Know?

Romania ranks as the fifth largest area for wine acreage in Europe, behind only France, Spain, Italy and Portugal.

"Providing excellent value the Cosmina Pinot Grigio from Cramele Recas is perfect for those looking for a Pinot with a difference. This wine sits between the simple, crisp Italian-style Pinots and the more zesty, aromatic style produced by the New World. It has lovely opulent aromas of grapefruit and peach in a medium-bodied style. This wine is definitely a smart buy."

Cosmina Pinot Noir is a fantastic example of Pinot Noir at a sensible price. Gorgeous flavours of black cherry, raspberry and cinnamon. Rich fruit cake spice on the palate with a velvety lingering finish. It pairs perfectly with roast chicken due to its bright acidity, rich fruit character and complexity.

Cramele Recas

Bordering the Black Sea, Romania is the cradle of the ancient winemaking world. Legend has it that Bacchus, god of wine, was born and raised in the region.

Situated on the far western fringes of the Transylvania/Banat region, just to the east of the town of Timisoara, Cramele Recas is a very impressive modern winery on an ancient site, occupying land that has been cultivated since at least 1447. Its limestone-rich soils make it perfect for winemaking, and in the last 10 years both the vineyard and winery have been completely, and exhaustively modernised to allow exacting control of every stage of the production process using the latest winemaking techniques. Australian Hartley Smithers and Spaniard Nora Iriarte lead the talented winemaking team, producing with passion a range of modern, fruit forward wines from both International and Romanian grape varieties.

South Africa

South Africa is really steaming ahead with the quality of its wines and it is rare to find a bad bottle. The Pinotage grape that is indigenous to South Africa, produces wines that are clean, fresh, vibrant and full of character. Bush vine Chenins have a richness and distinct texture but are light enough in body to be plentiful and fun. Premium South African wines are getting comfortable at the higher end of wine lists, delivering outstanding quality and perfect food pairings.

Facts & Figures

The wine regions are mainly found in the cooler southern section of the country near the coast where the grapes enjoy long hours of sunshine and fantastic levels of ripeness.

Did You Know?

Five percent of the sales of Painted Wolf wines in the U.K. are donated to the charity 'Tusk Trust' to help protect endangered species and alleviate poverty through sustainable development and education amongst rural communities.

"The vibrant label of Lion Ridge Sauvignon Blanc gives a real punch of colour to any wine list, emulating the zesty green flavours that leap out of the glass. Despite suffering the driest conditions in nearly a century, South Africa's wines go from strength to strength as producers strive to be as environmentally sustainable as possible."

Short Street Chenin-Grenache-Viognier is a blend of Chenin Blanc, Grenache Blanc and Viognier. A slight hint of perfume from the Viognier integrates perfectly with well-balanced natural acidity for a refreshing, mouth-watering finish. An exceptionally food-friendly wine that is well suited to a pulled pork burger with red cabbage coleslaw.

RIEBEEK

VALLEY WINE CO

Riebeek Valley Wine Co, Swartland

Located in the heart of the Swartland region of South Africa you will find the Riebeek Valley, home of our Huntersville range of wines and our partners, the Riebeek Valley Wine Company.

Since 1941 the Riebeek Valley Wine Co has dedicated themselves to the production of quality Swartland region wines. They have gained global recognition for their devotion to bringing the exceptional flavours of the Swartland to consumers around the world. Often referred to as 'Shiraz Country', the Riebeek Valley is renowned for exceptional Shiraz. Made only from the free-run juice of the small delicate berries they harvest each year, Huntersville Shiraz is a lively, rich and full-bodied wine with a subdued smokiness on the nose and a palate of ripe fruit and spice.

Spain

Spain continues to be one of the most exciting wine producing countries at the moment, especially with a near-perfect harvest in 2018. A variety of wine styles are made in so many different regions of the country, and from an array of over 400 international and indigenous grape varieties, you could write a whole wine list featuring only Spanish wines. Our range certainly offers some crackers to complement your wine list, from well-known Tempranillos and Riojas to fresh zesty white Godellos, and everything in between.

Facts & Figures

One third of all Spanish wine is exported and this figure is increasing year-on-year, with its biggest customers being the United Kingdom, Germany and the U.S.A.

Did You Know?

Despite most of Spain's wine being red, almost 62% of Spain's vineyards grow white grapes. This is because Spain uses white grapes in the production of brandy and sherry.

"Rioja is consistently my 'go to' bottle for a great glass of easy-drinking enjoyment. The 1000 Milhojas Tempranillo is no exception, and a delicious example of the most famous of Spanish grapes. Dark, brooding and intense with well-balanced fruit and tannins. Best enjoyed with hearty lamb dishes, a second glass or three and whilst listening to Pink Floyd."

The vines in Uclés are ideal for producing wines of great purity, freshness and varietal expression. Esencia de Fontana Verdejo has an aromatic nose with notes of freshly cut hay, citrus and fennel. Light-bodied, but with excellent fruit concentration. Slightly mineral with a crisp, dry finish, perfect to sip alongside a vegetable frittata.

Bodegas Santalba

Bodegas Santalba is a family-run winery with experience accumulated since 1964. Situated near Haro the Bodegas Santalba family are dedicated to challenging the norms of the winemaking region with experimental wine projects such as adding resveratrol to the soil of the vines to enhance the antioxidant level in the end product. They farm organically where possible, use natural fermentation and employ an innovative pump-over system which reuses the carbon dioxide given off during fermentation. Bodegas Santalba are defined by their ecological grape-growing, continuous development through research, development and investment, a sustainable system and the desire to hold onto the most genuine Riojan wine-making customs.

U.S.A

Sweet rosé aside, the U.S.A still struggles to gain traction on many wine lists, unsure of where to sit in terms of style and price. We can firmly recommend the wines from Hahn Estate, a family estate a few hours inland from Monterey, south of San Francisco. With three in the range; a robust Cabernet, supple Pinot Noir and buttery Chardonnay, there is something for everyone's palate. Yet it is the rosés, with their abundant strawberry taste, that warrant the U.S.A's place on wine lists, because they are the most popular rosé style on the market and show no signs of slowing.

Facts & Figures

California is the largest 'New World' wine producer and fourth largest in the world behind France, Italy and Spain.

Did You Know?

The state of California is nearly three-quarters the size of France and accounts for nearly 90 percent of American wine production.

"The Hahn family are on-point when it comes to sustainability, they take great pride in ensuring the well-being of their workers and their vineyards so that it benefits generations to come. Hahn Chardonnay has initial scents of pineapple and mango which give way to aromas of pear and vanilla. A rich mouthfeel shows flavours of bananas, baked apples and toffee. A touch of acidity balances a note of sweet butter on the crisp finish and to top it off it's vegetarian too!"

Essensia Orange Muscat is a full-bodied sweet wine made with Orange Muscat grapes. Spicy orange, apricot and pear flavours and aromas are balanced with perfect fruit acidity. Essensia and dessert are sensational together so pair it with a rich, melting chocolate fondant.

5620200 Hahn Winery Cabernet Sauvignon, California, 2016/17

V £15.16

Inviting red cherry and currant jam aromatics complement notes of vanilla and caramel. Chewy tannins frame hi-tone cherry and berry flavours that carry through the long, smooth finish. (D) 14.5% vol S

5620220 Hahn Winery Pinot Noir, California, 2016/17

V £15.16

This wine's bouquet charms with scents of red cherry, ripe strawberry, cola and spice. On the palate, soft mouthfeel complements flavours recalling plums and black cherry. Supple tannins and a dash of acidity end in a beautifully balanced, clean finish. (C) 14.5% vol S

Rosé Wine

5621610 Terrazzo Zinfandel Rosé, California, 2017/18

Ve SC £6.43

Bright pink in colour, it bursts with juicy melon, raspberry and apple notes, held in check with a streak of lemon lime acidity. (2) 9% vol S

5619000 Falling Petal Zinfandel Rosé, California, 2017/18

White Wine

5623060 The Deep Pinot Grigio, California, 2017/18

N SC £6.87

California takes this familiar Italian staple and gives it a Hollywood makeover. Flavours of lemon, lime, apple and apricot abound, with a zingy finish. (2) 12% vol S

5620210 Hahn Winery Chardonnay, California, 2016/17

V £15.16

Initial scents of pineapple and mango give way to aromas of pear and vanilla. A rich mouthfeel shows flavours of bananas, baked apples and toffee. A touch of acidity balances a note of sweet butter on the crisp finish. (2) 14.5% vol S

Dessert Wine

5607130 Elysium Black Muscat, Quady, California, 2016/17 - Half Bottle

SC £12.58

First aroma notes are twiggy, then brambly, then a wild sweetness - then finally the Muscat perfume with the Elysian sweet long finish. A wonderful mix. (5) 15% vol S

5607140 Essensia Orange Muscat, Quady, California, 2015/16 - Half Bottle

£13.93

Pure liquid gold. Aromatic Muscat aroma with intense honey and orange character. A powerful finish and mellowing of age with a refreshing lift of acidity to leave you wanting more. (5) 15% vol S

The Deep – making a difference

Cornwall's seas are the jewel in our crown; home to huge basking sharks, dolphins, seals and a rich wealth of beautiful creatures. We also have incredible underwater landscapes including rocky reefs, kelp forests and coral gardens.

The Living Seas team works to protect our incredible marine wildlife through surveying and monitoring our seas, and campaigning for better protection. They work with the fishing industry to encourage sustainability and the Cornwall Wildlife Trust also supports a huge network of local marine groups, who carry out beach cleans, recording wildlife and working to conserve their patch. With every bottle sold from our new The Deep range, a donation will be made to Cornwall Wildlife Trust's Living Seas programme. Matt Slater, CWT Marine Officer said "Donations made from sales of The Deep wines will make a real difference to our work protecting this amazing marine environment. Cornwall's seas are inspiring and wild but they are under threat from plastic pollution, climate change and unsustainable fishing".

Green Wines

To know whether a wine is suitable for vegetarians or vegans, you need to know how the wine is clarified (or fined) to remove the solid particles that would otherwise make it cloudy. The substances used for this process can be derived from many sources, some of which come from fish and animal, some from dairy products and some from clay or synthetic substances. Certain producers do not fine their wines at all while some choose just to filter.

Though bull's blood, a traditional fining agent, was banned by the EU after the BSE crisis, a number of animal-derived products are still permitted for the production of wine sold in Europe. Among the most prevalent are isinglass (fish swim bladders), gelatin, casein (milk protein) and albumen (egg whites). If a wine is fined with bentonite (a clay), the wine is suitable for vegetarians and vegans, if a wine is fined with casein or albumen it is suitable for vegetarians but not for vegans.

Strictly speaking, such substances are no longer found in the wine at all after clarification, but the fact that they have had contact with the liquid may be a deciding factor for some people.

Responsible Drinking

Understanding Alcohol Percentages

In this period of Government-led responsible drinking and increased awareness of health issues and alcohol consumption, it is important to know how many units of alcohol are in a glass of wine.

It is a simple calculation of the percentage volume alcohol multiplied by the amount of wine in litres.

Find out the exact units in your wine and for more information refer to the website drinkaware.co.uk

As an example, the amount of units contained in a glass of 11.5% wine is as follows:

Per 125ml Glass
(0.125L x 11.5%)

1.44 Units

Per 175ml Glass
(0.175L x 11.5%)

2.0 Units

Per 250ml Glass
(0.250L x 11.5%)

2.88 Units

Alternatively, the amount of units contained in a 14% wine is as follows:

Per 125ml Glass
(0.125L x 14%)

1.75 Units

Per 175ml Glass
(0.175L x 14%)

2.45 Units

Per 250ml Glass
(0.250L x 14%)

3.5 Units

Profit Calculator

Calculating Your Profit Margin

To calculate your gross margin on retail price you need to multiply the excl VAT cost price by the relevant factor to achieve the incl VAT list price at the required margin.

For example, to achieve a 60% margin on a bottle of wine that costs £5.75 excl VAT, simply multiply 5.75 by 3.001 to give a result of £17.25 inc VAT.

Margin required on Retail Price	Factor (20%)	Example Cost (excl VAT)	Example List Price (incl VAT)
45	2.181	£5.75	£12.54
50	2.400	£5.75	£13.80

Allergens Explained

As of December 13th 2014 a new law concerning allergens came into effect that significantly affects the hospitality trade. Here is an outline of the regulations and what you need to do about them.

The law states that all retailers MUST have information on allergen ingredients that MUST either be:

- Written up front (on a menu or menu board) without the customer having to ask for help.
- Sign posted to where information can be found or obtained.
- Sign posted to say that information can be obtained from a staff member.

If information on allergens is provided by word (by a staff member), this must be consistent and verifiable i.e. a business must have in place a process to capture information from recipes or ingredient lists from products bought in and this must be made available to staff.

Allergens Found In Wine:

Sulphur Dioxide S

The key allergen found in wine is sulphur dioxide. Some wines may also contain traces of milk or eggs which are used as fining agents. In essence, wine is exempt from the new laws because wine labels already adhere to wine regulations stating that sulphites, egg and milk need to be indicated if detected in the wine:

It is obligatory to state on the label that a wine contains sulphites if it contains more than 10mg/l of sulphur dioxide. This is shown as "Contains Sulphur Dioxide" (or sulphites/sulfites). SO₂ is used to a certain extent in the making of virtually all wine and is a by-product of fermentation, therefore virtually all wine contains this level of sulphites.

Milk M and Egg E

Casein is the principal milk protein used as a fining agent. If used it is mostly for white wine to get rid of a brown colour or for clearing cloudy wine. Egg whites are used in the production of fine red wines for fining as they gently adsorb the harsh and bitter tannins.

'In the case of wine and wine fining agents derived from egg and milk, EU Regulation No. 579/2012 will need to be considered. In determining whether egg and milk fining agents are still present in wine, they should not be found at the limit of detection (<0.25mg/l) as indicated in EU Regulation No 579/2012. Where egg and milk fining agents are not detected at these levels, they are exempt from the allergen labelling requirements. If it is detected over the limit then the allergens (milk and egg) must be listed on the back label'.

Fish F

Isinglass, a particularly pure protein obtained from the bladders of sturgeon and other freshwater fish has been used for fining wine for centuries. It reacts with the excess tannins in harsh young red wines and is occasionally used to clarify white wines to be bottled without a final filtration. There is a noticeable trend away from the use of animal-derived products, mainly in the interests of vegetarians and vegans.

What You Need To Do:

It's not as complicated as you might fear. To ensure your wine list adheres to EU law, all you need to do is add a statement on your wine list saying "Wines on this list may contain sulphites, egg or milk products. Please ask a member of staff should you require guidance." However, you will have to ensure your staff are confident about which wines contain allergens. To help you do this, we recommend having a document or file available to staff showing all products and which allergens they contain. You can also check the back of the wine bottles where all allergen information will be shown, providing they are 2012 vintage onwards. Additionally, in wine staff trainings we suggest talking about wine allergens and showing where to find the information, so that everyone is aware. Lastly, if you have any further queries please speak to your SDM who will be able to help.

Terms & Conditions

1. Terms of Payment

Payment is due by you in full and cleared funds within such period or on such date as we specify to you. Otherwise, if we do not give you a specific date then payment is due on the 24th day of the month following the month the invoice is dated. Failure to pay any amount due to us by the due date or any circumstances which give us reasonable concerns about your solvency, shall entitle us to suspend delivery of any undelivered orders.

If payment is not made by the due date, we reserve the right to charge you interest on the overdue amount at the rate of 3% per annum above the Bank of England's base rate from time to time. Such interest shall accrue on a daily basis from the due date until actual payment of the overdue amount. Any account falling overdue will not qualify for discount relating to the overdue amount and we reserve the right to withdraw without notice any discounts that have been allowed if payment is not made in full by the due date. All of our reasonable costs (including legal fees) incurred by us in collection of amounts due hereunder or in enforcing repossession under clause 5 below will be payable by you. In the event of any cheques or direct debit being dishonoured, we will charge you a reasonable fee to cover bank and administration costs. Any credit periods are granted at our discretion and can be amended, suspended or withdrawn by us at any time.

2. Claims

All goods should be examined at the time of delivery and any loss or damage signed for accordingly. If examination is impractical at the time of delivery, please sign delivery note "UNEXAMINED". In any event St Austell Brewery must be notified of any discrepancies and/or breakages in deliveries received not later than the day following the day of delivery.

3. Set-Off

You shall pay us all amounts due in full without any set-off, counterclaim, deduction or withholding (except as required by law). We may at any time without limiting any other rights or remedies we may have, set-off or withhold any amount owing to us, or any company within our group, by you against any sum which we or any company within our group owe you.

4. Insolvency

Without affecting any of our other rights or remedies we may terminate this contract or suspend any further deliveries under these conditions with immediate effect and if the goods have been delivered but not paid for, the price shall become immediately due and payable, notwithstanding any previous agreement or arrangement to the contrary if;

1. You become unable to pay your debts as they fall due, propose any voluntary arrangement or enter into a compromise or other arrangement with your creditors;
2. An order is made or you become subject to a bankruptcy petition or become bankrupt;
3. You become subject to a winding-up petition or go into liquidation or become subject to a petition for an administration order or upon the making of an administration order;
4. You cease, or threaten to cease, to carry on all or a substantial part of your business;
5. An encumbering party takes possession of, or a receiver or manager is appointed over any of your property or assets or;
6. We reasonably believe that any of the events mentioned above is likely to occur and notify you accordingly.

5. Risk & Retention of Title

The risk in the goods shall pass to you upon delivery. However, notwithstanding delivery and passing of risk in the goods, title and property in the goods, including full legal and beneficial ownership shall not pass to you until we have received in cash or cleared funds payment in full for the goods delivered to you and any other goods which we have supplied to you in respect of which payment has become due. Payment of the full price of the goods shall include the amount of any interest or other sum payable under the terms of this and all other contracts between us and you under which the goods were delivered.

Until payment for the goods is received by us, you shall hold the goods on our behalf and shall store the goods separately from all other goods you hold so that they are readily identifiable as our property. If you sell the goods before we have been paid in full, you shall hold the proceeds of the sale on trust for us, and such sale is only authorised by us if it takes place in the ordinary course of your business. In the event of non-payment by you on the due date, we shall be entitled to enter your premises and take such measures as are reasonably necessary to recover the goods. We shall have absolute authority to retake, sell or otherwise deal with or dispose of all or any part of the goods in which title remains vested in us. We shall be entitled to seek a court injunction to prevent you from selling, transferring or otherwise disposing of the goods.

6. Ownership

Notice is hereby given that returnable bottles, cases and casks upon which a deposit may or may not have been charged are your responsibility. They will be credited in full when returned in good condition and their full value will be charged for if not returned.

7. Availability of Stock, Vintages and Substitutions

It is not always possible to ensure that stocks of wine in our list remain available until the publication of the next monthly amendment sheet or annual price list. If your order includes a wine which is either out of stock or discontinued we will select another wine as near as possible in style, quality and price. Similarly in the event of a vintage being out of stock the next available vintage will be sent unless we are instructed to the contrary.

8. Prices

All prices are quoted exclusive of V.A.T and are subject to market fluctuations, alterations in Customs and Excise Duties, and stocks being available. We reserve the right to alter any prices or specifications in accordance with these conditions at any time without notice to you and all goods are sold subject to prices and conditions ruling at the date of dispatch. All prices include delivery by our own transport providing that conditions stated under Clause 9 below are adhered to.

9. Deliveries and Minimum Orders

We reserve the right to state a minimum value and/or quantity for any orders to be delivered wherever deemed appropriate. All deliveries are made by our own transport. Approximate times and days of deliveries are available from St Austell Brewery or any of its depots.

10. Warranty

We warrant that on delivery our goods conform with their description and are of satisfactory quality (within the meaning of the Sale of Goods Act 1979). All other implied terms are, to the fullest extent permitted by law, excluded from the contract.

11. Contract Terms

These terms and conditions apply to the contract between you and us to the exclusion of any other terms that you seek to impose or incorporate, or which are implied by trade, custom, practice or course of dealing.

An order constitutes an offer by you to purchase the goods in accordance with these conditions.

You are responsible for ensuring that the terms of the order and any applicable specification are complete and accurate.

An order will only be deemed to be accepted by us when we confirm acceptance, either verbally or in writing, at which point a contract will come into existence. A contract constitutes the entire agreement between you and us.

12. Stock Rotation and Returns

It is your responsibility to rotate products so that the oldest is sold first. No credit will be given for out of date products nor will they be exchanged. No returns of WINES AND SPIRITS will be accepted other than in exceptional circumstances in which case authorisation from the brewery is required in advance. In the instances of BEER, CIDER AND MINERALS carrying an open date code, goods must be returned in complete packs, good condition and not of mixed dates and must have the major part of their available life to run. Guidance on this matter is readily available from us on request. We cannot guarantee credit on returns of other Brewer's cask conditioned Ales and even where credit is given delays of up to 3 months should be expected. Cask conditioned Ales cannot be supplied on a sale or return basis. Returns of Draught Wine, Postmix Minerals and "Special Orders" will not be accepted. In the case of authorisation from St Austell Brewery being granted for the return of goods, due to overstocking, closing down or change of ownership we reserve the right to charge up to 20% of the value of the goods to cover costs of collection and administration.

13. Exclusion of Liability

St Austell Brewery Company Limited shall be under no liability whatsoever for loss or damage, death or personal injury howsoever arising other than for death or personal injury sustained by any person arising from the negligence of St Austell Brewery Company Limited or under the Consumer Protection Act 1987.

14. Money Laundering

For the protection of our customers, we operate a money laundering reporting procedure. In certain circumstances, information will be revealed by us to the appropriate authorities in relation to any suspicion of money laundering.
